

About the Authors

Reana Bezić, LL.M.

Assistant of the Max Planck Partner Group for ‘Balkan Criminology’ at the Faculty of Law (University of Zagreb)

Trg m. Tita 14
10000 Zagreb
Croatia

r.bezic@balkan-criminology.eu

Reana Bezić has been a member of the MPPG since 2013 and an assistant at the University of Zagreb’s Faculty of Law since 2014. She is also Ph.D. candidate at the University of Freiburg’s Faculty of Law and the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law. She conducts the MPPG research project on “ISRD3 Croatia – International Self-Report Delinquency Study” and participates as a junior researcher in the project “RJ Croatia – Restorative Justice at Post-Sentencing Level – Supporting and Protecting Victims”. She graduated in law at the University of Zagreb. During her studies, Bezić participated in numerous seminars, conferences and programmes and she also worked as a trainee in various fields of law. Along with juvenile delinquency, her research interests include victimization surveys, cross-national comparisons, self-report studies and quantitative criminology. Within the framework of the MPPG she is in charge of the coordination of the BC web page and organization of BC courses.

Prof. Dr. Gordana Bužarovska

Professor for Criminal Procedure Law and Criminology at the Faculty of Law (“Iustinianus Primus”, University “Ss. Cyril and Methodius” in Skopje)

Blvd. Goce Delcev 9B
1000 Skopje
Republic of Macedonia

gordana2206@gmail.com

Born in Skopje, Macedonia, Gordana Bužarovska received her Ph.D. in criminal law at the Faculty of Law “Iustinianus Primus” of the “Ss. Cyril and Methodius” University in Skopje in 2001. Between 1994 and 1996 she worked at the Appeal Court in Skopje. Since 2008, she has been Vice Dean and since 2012 full-time professor at the Faculty of Law “Iustinianus Primus” in Skopje. She spent several months as visiting researcher at the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law in Freiburg in 2000 and 2003. Bužarovska is author and co-author of nearly 20 university text books, manuals and handbooks, as well as author of numerous articles in domestic and international journals in the areas of criminal law, criminal procedure law, criminology and juvenile justice. She has participated in many domestic and international projects in her fields of interest. She was president/member of several working groups for amending laws. She is member of the Editorial board of the Macedonian Review on Criminal Law and Criminology, of the E-journal Law Review “Iustinianus Primus” as well as of the professional legal journal “Lawyer”. She is member of the European Society of Criminology and Max Planck Partner Group for ‘Balkan Criminology’.

Assist. Prof. Dr. Anna-Maria Getoš Kalac, LL.M.

Assistant Professor and Head of the Max Planck Partner Group for ‘Balkan Criminology’ at the Faculty of Law (University of Zagreb)

Trg m. Tita 14

10000 Zagreb

Croatia

a.getos@balkan-criminology.eu

Anna-Maria Getoš Kalac graduated at the Albert Ludwig University of Freiburg – Faculty of Law (LL.M.) in 2004 and obtained her doctoral degree (Dr. jur.) at the same University in 2010 with her dissertation on political violence in the Balkans. From 2005 to 2006, she was head of the Project Implementation Unit (PIU) and a member of the Working-Group for Croatian EU Accession Negotiations in the Ministry of Science, Education and Sports of the Republic of Croatia. She joined the University of Zagreb’s Faculty of Law as a lecturer in 2006 where she was appointed Assistant Professor in 2011. In addition, Getoš Kalac was appointed head of the MPPG for Balkan Criminology by the President of the Max Planck Society in December 2012. She conducted a variety of national and international research projects and spent several terms as scientific researcher at the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law, Freiburg, Germany. She regularly delivers lectures abroad and is a course director of the International Spring Course “Crime Prevention through Criminal Law and Security Studies” and of MPPG’s Intensive Course on Balkan Criminology, both held at the Inter University Centre in Dubrovnik. Her list of publications includes authored, co-authored, edited and co-edited books, articles and conference papers in Croatian, English, German, Italian and Spanish. Getoš Kalac is a regular full member and executive editor of the Yearbook of the Croatian Academy for Legal Sciences and general editor of the Publication Series of the MPPG for Balkan Criminology (together with Hans-Jörg Albrecht), a sub-series of the Research Series of the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law, published by Duncker & Humblot, Berlin. She received several national and international awards and fellowships and is a member of the Croatian Academy for Legal Sciences, the Croatian Society for Criminal Law Sciences and Practice, the Croatian Society of Criminalists and the European Society of Criminology (member of the board since 2014).

Prof. Dr. Đorđe Ignjatović

Full Professor at the School of Law (University of Belgrade)

Bulevar kralja Aleksandra 67
11000 Belgrade
Serbia

ignjat@ius.bg.ac.rs

Đorđe Ignjatović graduated at the University of Belgrade's School of Law in 1975, where he completed his M.A. studies in 1979 with the thesis "Opened Institutions and Modern Tendencies in Execution of Prison" and where he received his doctorate in 1985 on the thesis "Contemporary Criminal Policy in Yugoslavia". In 1977, he started working as an assistant lecturer in Criminology with Penology at the School of Law in Belgrade. In 1987, he became assistant professor, associate professor in 1993 and full professor in 1998. Ignjatović has especially dealt with problems of organized crime, computer crime and white collar crime, abuse of power and hate crimes, the comparative study of criminal justice, crime in Serbia and in other countries, decriminalization and bargain crime, problems of war crimes, crimes against humanity, etc. He participated in many domestic and international meetings.

Dr. Evisa Kambellari

Lecturer of Criminal Law at the Faculty of Law (University of Tirana)

Rruga "Milto Tutulani"
1000 Tirana
Albania

evisa.kambellari@fdut.edu.al

Evisa Kambellari is a Lecturer of Criminal Law at the Faculty of Law of the University of Tirana. She completed her higher education and doctoral studies at the Faculty of Law of the University of Tirana and obtained the academic title "Doctor of Criminal Sciences" with a thesis on "Criminal offences against integrity of computer data and systems". In addition to teaching, Kambellari is strongly devoted to comparative research and holds the position of the General Secretary of the Albanian Committee of International Academy of Comparative Law. She is also a regular member of the organizational committee of scientific conferences in the affiliated institution. Her actual research interests are focused on criminal offences against confidentiality and security of electronic communications, the criminal law protection of the right to privacy and correspondence, as well as the legal and factual grounds for applying criminal liability of legal entities.

Dr. Ruža Karlović

Senior Lecturer at the Croatian Ministry of Interior's Police College at the Police Academy

Avenija Gojka Šuška 1
10000 Zagreb
Croatia

rkarlovic@fkz.hr

Ruža Karlović graduated from Zagreb Police College in 2002. In the following year she started to work as a research assistant at the Police College – Department of Criminology and Juvenile Delinquency. In 2007, she graduated with a licentiate from the University of Zagreb's Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences. At the same University she defended her doctoral thesis in 2012. Karlović is currently working as a lecturer at the Police College. Her scientific interests focus on the status and duties of police in society, on crime prevention and on sociology of crime. She is the author and co-author of articles, scientific papers and conference abstracts.

Dr. Michael Kilchling

Senior Researcher, Department of Criminology, Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law

Günterstalstraße 73
79100 Freiburg i.Br.
Germany

m.kilchling@mpicc.de

Michael Kilchling is a senior researcher at the Department of Criminology of the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law in Freiburg and lecturer at the University of Freiburg where he has also received his doctoral degree (Dr. jur.) with the dissertation „Interests of victims of crime and public prosecution“. His main research interests include penal sanctions and sanctioning systems, juvenile justice, victim/offender mediation and other forms of restorative justice, victimology, organized crime, money laundering and the financing of terrorism, confiscation and asset recovery, and procedural measures of investigation. He has been a member of several international expert groups and committees. In 2005, he worked at the International Monetary Fund in Washington, D.C. (USA), as visiting expert on European legislation on asset confiscation, since 2007 he has been a visiting professor at the University of Macau (UMAC) and in 2008 he was a visiting professor at K.U. Leuven (Belgium). Kilchling is also a course director of the International Spring Course “Crime Prevention through Criminal Law and Security Studies” (since 2009) and of MPPG’s Intensive Course on Balkan Criminology (since 2014), both held at the Inter University Centre in Dubrovnik (Croatia). Kilchling is a member of the European Forum for Restorative Justice (currently as chair), the European Society of Criminology, the [German/Austrian/Swiss] Kriminologische Gesellschaft, and a life member of the World Society of Victimology. His list of publications includes authored, co-authored as well as edited books and articles in German and English, a few of which have been translated into Italian, Turkish and Chinese.

Lavdim Krasniqi

Director of the Kosovo Judicial Institute

Mati 1, Kompleksi Dafina, 3-3, No. 21

10000 Pristina

Kosovo

lavdim_jd@hotmail.com

Lavdim Krasniqi graduated from the Law Faculty of the University of Pristina (mr. sc.), where he subsequently completed his postgraduate studies. He passed the bar exam and completed a number of trainings. Krasniqi served as a judge for minor offences for more than three years. Since 2006, he has been working at the Kosovo Judicial Institute, initially as Programme Coordinator, and since 2007 as the Director of the Kosovo Judicial Institute. Besides his position of Director, Krasniqi also serves as an instructor for trainers and is a member of the commission for the entrance examination of candidates for judges and prosecutors. He has also been active as a teacher: since 2010 at the Law Faculty of the University of Prizren, where he currently teaches a course in Methodology and Legal Writing, and since 2011 at the UBT College, where he teaches courses related to Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure Law, and Moot Court. Krasniqi further participated at different regional and international conferences, where he presented various topics regarding judicial training.

Prof. Dr. Effi Lambropoulou

Professor of Criminology at the Department of Sociology (Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences Athens)

Syngrou Ave. 136

17671 Athens

Greece

elambro@panteion.gr

Effi Lambropoulou graduated with an LL.L. from the Law Faculty of the University of Athens, passed postgraduate seminars in sociology of criminal law at the Law Faculty of the University of Bielefeld, Germany, and received her Ph.D. in criminology at the Law Faculty of the University of Freiburg i.Br., Germany. She worked four years as a lawyer before she became a member of the teaching and research personnel of the Panteion University in 1999. Visiting fellowship at the University of Cambridge (2011). Her main research topics, publications and courses are: social control, corrections, police-policing, law making and law enforcement, corruption, ecology of crime, illegal markets, and epistemological issues of criminology. Lambropoulou has been member of various ad hoc reform-committees at the Ministries of Justice and Public Order; member of the Central Scientific Board of Prisons (1996–2004). She presented papers to and served as keynote speaker for several international and European congresses and workshops. Member of the Greek and the European criminological societies. Peer reviewer of international academic journals.

Natalija Lukić, LL.M.

Assistant Lecturer at the School of Law (University of Belgrade)

Bulevar kralja Aleksandra 67
11000 Belgrade
Serbia

natalija.lukic@ius.bg.ac.rs

Natalija Lukić graduated at the University of Belgrade's School of Law in 2008, where she completed her M.A. studies in 2009 with the thesis "Dangerous Professions" and where she enrolled as Ph.D. student. In 2012, she received a DAAD scholarship and spent one month at the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law in Freiburg. In 2014, she published the monograph entitled "Suppression of Organised Crime: Comparative View". Further areas of scientific interest include corporate and white collar crime, criminal career and sexual offenders. In 2009, Lukić started working as teaching assistant in Criminology with Penology at the School of Law in Belgrade. She also teaches Criminal Law.

Assist. Prof. Dr. Almir Maljević, LL.M.

Professor of Criminal Law and Comparative Criminal Justice at the Faculty of Criminal Justice, Criminology and Security Studies (University of Sarajevo)

Zmaja od Bosne 8
71000 Sarajevo
Bosnia and Herzegovina
amaljevic@fkn.unsa.ba

Almir Maljević works as an Assistant Professor of Criminal Law at the Faculty of Criminal Justice, Criminology and Security Studies, at the University of Sarajevo. His research interests include juvenile delinquency, organized collective criminality, and corruption. His work has been published in English and German in European and American crime and criminal justice journals. He participated in numerous national and comparative international research projects focusing on crime and criminal justice issues.

Associate Prof. Dr. Svetla Margaritova-Vuchkova

Member of the Academic Council (Burgas Free University) and President of the Bulgarian Association of Criminology

Burgas Free University
Faculty of Legal Studies
Bul. San Stefano 62
8000 Burgas
Bulgaria

svmargaritova@gmail.com

Svetla Margaritova-Vuchkova is author of more than 30 scientific publications in the field of crime prevention, juvenile delinquency, female crime, identity of young offenders and the problems of minors with deviant behaviour. She has participated in the implementation of a number of regional and national criminological research and development programmes for crime prevention. In her recent monograph “Special measures for juvenile offenders” the procedures for the placement in specialized institutions are analysed as to their correspondence with the provisions of the European Convention on Human Rights based on the jurisprudence of the European Court for Human Rights in this field. The author is President of the Bulgarian Association of Criminology as well as Chairman of the Foundation Bulgarian Lawyers for Human Rights.

Aleksandar Maršavelski, LL.M.

Assistant Lecturer at the Faculty of Law’s Department of Criminal Law (University of Zagreb) and member of the Max Planck Partner Group for ‘Balkan Criminology’

Trg m. Tita 14
10000 Zagreb
Croatia

a.marsavelski@balkan-criminology.eu

Aleksandar Maršavelski has been a member of the MPPG since 2014 and works as assistant lecturer at the Criminal Law Department of the Faculty of Law, University of Zagreb. He obtained his law degree from the University of Zagreb in 2008 and his LL.M. from Yale University in 2012. He worked as an associate at the Department for Criminal Law of the Croatian Ministry of Justice (2009–2010). Since 2010, he has been working as a research fellow at the Faculty of Law, University of Zagreb, and since 2013 as assistant lecturer at the same Faculty. After attending a postgraduate programme in criminal legal sciences at the Faculty of Law, University of Zagreb, Maršavelski began his Ph.D. studies in a joint degree programme with the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law and Albert-Ludwig-University in Freiburg. His research interests are related to a variety of topics in the field of criminal law, criminology, medical law, bioethics, international law, constitutional law, law and politics, juvenile justice, EU criminal law, and the protection of victims.

Prof. Dr. Elmedin Muratbegović

Associate Professor of Criminology at the Faculty of Criminal Justice, Criminology and Security Studies (University of Sarajevo)

Zmaja od Bosne 8
71000 Sarajevo
Bosnia and Herzegovina
emuratbegovic@fkn.unsa.ba

Elmedin Muratbegović works as an Associate Professor of Criminology at the Faculty of Criminal Justice, Criminology and Security Studies of the University of Sarajevo. His research interest include crime control and crime prevention, criminological prognosis, spatial analysis of crime and fear of crime, green criminology, juvenile delinquency and trafficking in human beings.

Assist. Prof. Dr. Vesna Ratković

Director of the Directorate for Anti-Corruption Initiative
(Montenegrin Ministry of Justice)

Crnogorskih serdara bb
81000 Podgorica
Montenegro
vesna.ratkovic@daci.gov.me

Vesna Ratković, Ph.D. in Criminal Law, has more than 30 years of work experience in public administration, judiciary and enforcement of criminal sanctions, gained during her work in the Government of Montenegro – the Ministry of Justice, for USAID/ Montenegro, and now as the Director of the Directorate for Anti-Corruption Initiative. Ratković is a member of the National Commission for implementation of the Strategy for the fight against corruption and organized crime. She is also Head of the delegation of Montenegro in the GRECO, focal point for OECD and Senior Representative of Montenegro in the Regional Anti-Corruption Initiative (RAI) of South-Eastern Europe.

Karlo Ressler, LL.M.

Assistant of the Max Planck Partner Group for 'Balkan Criminology' at the Faculty of Law (University of Zagreb)

Trg m. Tita 14
10000 Zagreb
Croatia

k.ressler@balkan-criminology.eu

Karlo Ressler has been a member of the MPPG since 2013 and an assistant at the University of Zagreb's Faculty of Law. He is also a Ph.D. candidate at the University of Freiburg's Faculty of Law and the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law. He conducts the MPPG research project on "Trafficking in Human Beings in and through the Balkans – A Qualitative Analysis". He graduated in law at the University of Zagreb and spent a year studying at the University of Sheffield, United Kingdom. During his studies, Ressler participated in numerous seminars, conferences and programmes in various fields of law. Along with trafficking in human beings, his research interests include illegal migrations, violence research and qualitative criminology. In the framework of the MPPG he is in charge of BCNet coordination and the MPPG conference organization, as well as collecting and publishing the 'Balkan Criminology' links on Balkan-focused and Balkan-positioned actors.

Sunčana Roksandić Vidlička, M.Sc., LL.M.

Assistant Lecturer at the Faculty of Law's Department of Criminal Law (University of Zagreb) and member of the Max Planck Partner Group for 'Balkan Criminology'

Trg m. Tita 14
10000 Zagreb
Croatia

s.roksandic.vidlicka@balkan-criminology.eu

Sunčana Roksandić Vidlička, M.Sc. (Zagreb), LL.M. (Zagreb), is an Assistant Lecturer at the Department of Criminal Law of the University of Zagreb's Faculty of Law. She lectures criminal law, economic criminal law, bioethics and human rights, EU criminal law and victim rights. She is a Ph.D. candidate of the University of Zagreb's and University of Freiburg's Faculties of Law and member of the MPPG. She worked in a law firm and the Croatian Medical Chamber. She is Head of the Croatian Unit of the International Network of UNESCO Chairs in Bioethics. Recipient of annual award to Best Young Scientists in Social Science in 2010 and recipient of a doctoral scholarship at the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law. Member of several expert groups and national (law drafting) working groups. Author and co-author of a manual, law commentaries and a number of articles, and co-editor of several manuals.

Dr. Eszter Sárík

Researcher fellow at the National Institute of Criminology

Maros utca 6/A.

1122 Budapest

Hungary

sarik@okri.hu

Eszter Sárík has been working at the National Institute of Criminology (OKRI) since 1999. She specialized in juvenile delinquency and crime prevention and conducted research on the topic of trajectories in child- and juvenile-crime, took part in ISRD-2 and conducted an inquiry in homicide cases. She was appointed as a prosecutor in 2012. Currently, she is preparing a Ph.D. thesis titled: “Religion and Crime Prevention” with special focus on value-structure among youngsters.

Prof. Dr. Ernesto Savona

Professor and Director of TRANSCRIME

Largo Gemelli 1

20123 Milan

Italy

ernesto.savona@unicatt.it

Ernesto U. Savona has been a Professor of Criminology at the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore in Milan since 2003 and Director of TRANSCRIME, Joint Research Centre on Transnational Crime (www.transcrime.it). Before, he was a professor at the University of Trento and Rome La Sapienza. Since 2003, he has been Editor-in-Chief of the European Journal on Criminal Policy and Research and Editor-in-Chief of the Springer Briefs in International and Comparative Criminology, both published by Springer. He was also nominated President of the European Society of Criminology for the years 2003/2004. For the term 2010/2011 he was the chair of the Global Agenda Council on Organized Crime of the World Economic Forum. He is author of many books and articles on organized and economic crime with special attention to crime policies and their impact, and he is also speaker at many international conferences.

Assist. Prof. Dr. Andra-Roxana Trandafir

Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Law (University of Bucharest)

Drumul Valea Furcii no. 66, et. 3, ap. 44

061985 Bucharest

Romania

andra-roxana.trandafir@drept.unibuc.ro

Andra-Roxana Trandafir (Ilie), Ph.D., is an Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Law, University of Bucharest, teaching Criminology and Criminal Law, and a lawyer within the Bucharest Bar, dealing mostly with cases involving criminal business law. She is also Secretary General of the Association “Henri Capitant” of the Friends of the French Legal Culture – the Romanian Group, and Editor-in-Chief of MPPG’s newsletter “Balkan Criminology News”. She published two books related to criminal liability of legal persons in Romania and more than 35 articles in Romania, Canada, Italy, Panama, Slovenia, etc.

Prof. Dr. Adem Sözüer

Dean of the Faculty of Law and Head of the Department of Criminal Law and Criminal Procedure Law (Istanbul University)

Beyazit/Fatih
34452 Istanbul
Turkey

sozueradem@gmail.com

Adem Sözüer graduated from the Faculty of Law of Istanbul University in 1983. He completed his master studies with the thesis entitled “Criminal Liability for Crimes Involving the Press” at the Social Sciences Institution of Istanbul University in 1986. He obtained his Ph.D. with a dissertation entitled “Attempt to Commit a Crime” from the same Institution in 1993. In 1994, Prof. Sözüer became Assistant Professor at the Department of Criminal Law and Criminal Procedure Law. Subsequently, he was awarded the degree of Associate Professorship for his work concerning “Criminal Law Measures in the Fight against Organized Crime” in 2000. With the thesis titled “Die Reform des türkischen Strafrechts” he was appointed as a criminal law professor to the Istanbul University Faculty of Law in 2008. In 2009, he was elected Dean of the Faculty of Law of Istanbul University. Sözüer was appointed to the Justice Committee in the Grand National Assembly of Turkey as well as other committees under the Ministry of Justice where he has been active in the preparation of the Turkish Criminal Code, the Turkish Criminal Procedure Code, the Law on the Execution of Sentences and Security Measures and Penal Orders. Recently Sözüer has worked on the code regarding protection of family and prevention of violence against women.

Prof. Dr. Holm Sundhaussen †

Professor for Southeast European History at the Institute for East European Studies (Free University Berlin)

Holm Sundhaussen was born in Berlin in 1942 and died in Regensburg in 2015. He had received his Ph.D. in history from the University of Munich in 1973 and defended his habilitation at the University of Göttingen (Germany) in 1981. Between 1973 and 1988, he worked as a researcher at the Universities of Hamburg, Munich and Göttingen. He was appointed Professor for Southeast European History at the Institute for East European Studies at the Free University of Berlin in 1988. From 1998 to 2015, he served as a co-director of the Berlin School (formerly Centre) for the Comparative History of Europe. Sundhaussen was author and editor of numerous studies on Southeast, Central East and East European history. His research was primarily concerned with social and economic history of the Balkans, nationalism and national identity in Southeastern Europe, and collective memory.

Assist. Prof. Dr. Tuba Topçuoğlu

Assistant Professor in the Department of Criminal Law and Criminal Procedure Law of the Faculty of Law (Istanbul University)

Beyazit/Fatih
34452 Istanbul
Turkey

tuba.topcuoglu@gmail.com

Tuba Topçuoğlu obtained her Bachelor's degree in Economics from Koç University in Istanbul in 1999. She completed her first master with the thesis entitled "Firearms and Crime: An International Perspective" at the Department of Economics of University College London in 2000, and the second one with the thesis "Ethnic Minorities and Crime: A Developmental Perspective" at the Institute of Criminology at Cambridge University in 2006. She then obtained her Ph.D. with a dissertation entitled "Parents' Use of Corporal Punishment and Children's Externalising Behaviour Problems: A Cross-Cultural Assessment" from the same Institution in 2011. In 2013, Topçuoğlu became Assistant Professor in the Department of Criminal Law and Criminal Procedure Law at Istanbul University. She teaches undergraduate and graduate courses in criminology, juvenile delinquency, comparative criminology and crime prevention.

Filip Vojta, LL.M.

Member of the Max Planck Partner Group for 'Balkan Criminology' and Doctoral Candidate of the International Max Planck Research School on Retaliation, Mediation and Punishment (IMPRS REMEP) at the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law

Günterstalstraße 73
79100 Freiburg i. Br.
Germany

f.vojta@balkan-criminology.eu

Filip Vojta is a Ph.D. candidate at the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law in Freiburg, Germany, and since 2013 has been a research member of the Max Planck Partner Group for 'Balkan Criminology'. He is in charge of the MPPG research project “Punishment and Sentence Enforcement for Serious Violations of International Humanitarian Law Committed in the Former Yugoslavia”. Vojta obtained his LL.M. degree from the Zagreb Faculty of Law. Subsequently, he has participated in numerous specialization programmes and conferences in various fields of law, criminology and social anthropology, and is a full member of the European Society of Criminology. His research interests include penology, sociology of conflicts and violence, international criminal justice and transitional justice.

Prof. Dr. John Winterdyk

Professor, Department of Justice Studies (Mount Royal University)

4825 Mount Royal Gate

SW. Calgary, AB.

Canada T3E 6K6

jwinterdyk@mtroyal.ca.

John Winterdyk is a Professor of Justice Studies at the Department of Economics, Justice and Policy Studies of Mount Royal University in Calgary (Alberta, Canada). After having graduated as the first student in Canada with a Ph.D. in Criminology from the School of Criminology at Simon Fraser University, Vancouver (British Columbia, Canada), he then joined the Department of Justice Studies at Mount Royal University in 1988. From 2006 to 2009, he served as the Department Chair before becoming the first Director of Mount Royal’s Centre of Criminology and Justice Research in 2010–2012. In 2009, he was the recipient of the first Distinguished Faculty Award and in 2008 the recipient of the Distinguished Team Award. He currently holds adjunct positions at: St. Thomas University in Fredericton (New Brunswick, Canada), the University of Regina (Saskatchewan, Canada) and the Polytechnic of Namibia in Windhoek (Namibia). He has had several scholarships as a visiting researcher at the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law in Freiburg (Germany). In 2000, he was a visiting endowed chair at St. Thomas University. Winterdyk’s current areas of research include restorative justice, identity theft, corrections, human trafficking, juvenile justice, and comparative criminal justice. He has published extensively in the areas of youth justice, human trafficking, international criminal justice and criminological issues, and has authored or edited more than 28 academic books and several dozen peer reviewed articles. He has also served as a guest editor for three peer-reviewed journals, including a special issue of the “International Criminal Review” on the theme of genocide and an issue of the “European Journal of Criminology” on human trafficking. He is currently a book review editor for the “Journal of Human Trafficking” and serves on the editorial board for nearly a dozen international journals.

Assist. Prof. Dr. Sabina Zgaga

Assistant Professor for Criminal Law at the Faculty of Criminal Justice and Security
(University of Maribor)

Kotnikova 8
1000 Ljubljana
Slovenia

sabina.zgaga@fvv.uni-mb.si

Sabina Zgaga graduated from the Faculty of Law of the University of Ljubljana in 2006 with the thesis “The Relation between the Constitution and the Theoretical Model of the Criminal Procedure”. In her doctoral study of criminal law she focused on international criminal law, especially its general part. For her studies she has been granted two scholarships of the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Laws. Her doctoral thesis from April 2011 titled “Necessity and Duress in International Criminal Law”, for which she received the United Nations Association for Slovenia’s Award, focused on the regulation of necessity and duress (and other related issues such as self-defence, military necessity and superior order) in international, comparative and Slovenian criminal law. Currently, she is working as an Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Criminal Justice and Security of the University of Maribor. Her research work is focused on international criminal law, substantive, and procedural criminal law.